In the mix for frontier classic

OKLAHOMA is coming to town. Parade College will perform the musical as its 2010 production.

The cast will be joined by a number of actresses from Santa Maria College in Northcote to portray life on America’s frontier during the early 1900s.

Stage director Anthony Ventura, also a Parade teacher, said the show promised to deliver something for all, with themes of love, drama and a side of parody.

“It’s very much a family show with famous songs like ‘I Can’t Say No, Oh What A Beautiful Morning’, ‘Make A New Day’ and ‘Poor Jud Is Dead’,” he said.

Performances will be held at Parade’s modern Rivergum Theatre on July 15, 16 and 17 at 7.30pm.

The Saturday matinee begins at 2pm.

Tickets are available at parade.vic.edu.au or trybooking.com/3386.
